CFA Intensive 3-Day Revision & Mock Exam

Deliberately scheduled just ahead of the June exam, our weekend revision course has proven very popular for many years. Lack of exam practice is one of the common pitfalls faced by CFA candidates and this intensive course, led by our expert tutors are designed to be exam focused and provide knowledge consolidation and targeted question practice in the run up to the exam. Candidates studying in our regular CFA classes can use this revision program to validate your overall understanding of the curriculum. We also recommend this course for individuals who may have failed at the last sitting and are looking for expert assistance at the end of a period of self-study or those who require an extra confidence boost just before the exam day.

Also enjoy 20% discount off standard rate before 18 April

“I find it really useful and improve my knowledge significantly.”

Level 1 & 2

Darren Degraaf CFA, CPA (US), CMA, PRM is currently an independent contractor for a number of international finance training companies. His main responsibilities include lecturing, curriculum development, training instructors (train-the-trainers) on best practices, and business development. In addition, Darren is an adjunct professor at the Sauder School of Business, University of British Columbia (UBC) as well as a part-time lecturer at the British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT).

Before working in the education industry, he spent 5 years as a Senior Manager at HSBC Bank. In this position, he focused on the credit risk exposure of the bank’s lending portfolio. Prior to that, Darren held various analytical and accounting positions in HSBC's Finance, Asset Management, and Insurance divisions - over some 13 years.

In terms of his international lecturing experience, over some 10 years he has taught in Europe, the Middle East, the Americas, and throughout Asia - teaching topics at all 3 levels of the CFA Program as well as the Financial and Business & Economic Concepts (BEC) sections of the U.S. CPA exam. He also guest lectured at Hanoi University.

Benjamin Goh, CFA is currently a Senior Lecturer at the Singapore Institute of Technology, Singapore’s fifth autonomous university. While waiting (impatiently) to start on his PhD, Ben teaches a variety of finance courses. Before joining SIT, Ben held a number of diverse roles in CIMB Group, JPMorgan, Credit Suisse, Deloitte Consulting and Hewlett Packard.

His most recent role was a market Strategist for CIMB Research where Ben provided analysis and insight on market moving events, the global macroeconomic environment, assets and individual securities. Before that, Ben was a fund manager with CIMB’s Discretionary Investment Unit.

Ben has been interviewed on Channel News Asia’s First Look Asia, Business Times and provided market commentary on 938 Live every week Monday to Thursday. An adjunct instructor with CFA Singapore, Ben’s speciality is equity analysis, portfolio management and economics. Ben also sits on Nanyang Polytechnic’s finance industry panel where he advises the school on structuring finance courses to meet industry needs.

Benjamin received his Masters in Finance from the ICMA Centre, United Kingdom, in 2002 and became a Chartered Financial Analyst in 2001.

Level 3

Bill Campbell III, CFA passed each CFA Exam on the first try and has over nine years experience teaching and developing curricula for all three levels of the CFA Exam.

He has taught five-day intensive review courses for the Level II and Level III CFA Exams in Zürich, Switzerland, and Frankfurt, Germany, as well as Level I, Level II, and Level III review courses and mock exams in Los Angeles, Irvine, Washington, Atlanta, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Toronto, Vancouver, Windsor (ON), London, Paris, Geneva, Moscow, and Kiev, as well as Level III webinars in Singapore and Malaysia.

He holds Bachelor’s degrees in Business (Accounting) and Mathematics from California State University, Fullerton (CSUF), and a Master’s degree in Mathematics from CSUF.

Professionally, he is a principal and primary developer of software for analyzing investment portfolios, and for simulating fixed-income markets for a Yorba Linda, CA-based consulting company.

Prior, he spent six years at PIMCO analyzing mortgage-backed securities, primarily developing prepayment models and rewriting the bulk of their pass-through mortgage and CMO analysis software.
